

WRECK OF THE STEINMAN

Full Details of the Destructive Disaster and Terrible Loss of Life.

List of the Passengers and Seamen Who Went Down in the Deep.

Nine Souls Out of One Hundred and Twenty-Nine Saved.

Boston, April 5.—A special to the Herald from Halifax, received late last night, says the Steamer Daniel Steinmann struck about ten o'clock Thursday night on the head rock shoal about 200 yards distant from Sambro Light, during a terrific gale and dense fog. She immediately backed off and the next moment struck on the Gardner shoal. An immense hole was knocked in her bottom, so speedily filling her with water that she went down in a few minutes. So far as is at present known but one life boat was launched, but how many it first contained is not known. About midnight the men on Sambro island observed a boat making for the shore and guided it with torches to Cabin Cove where the occupants, five of the crew and two passengers, landed; after daylight broke two persons could be seen.

of the sunken ship, and a boat from the light house rescued them from their perilous position. They proved to be Captain Shoonover and a pilot passenger. About 9 o'clock Friday morning a pilot boat touched at Sambro island and received a note from the captain to the agent of the steam ship which contains the above meagre facts.

The steamer Daniel Steinmann left Antwerp with fifty passengers and a crew of thirty-six. The following are the names of the PASSENGERS ON THE WRECKED STEAMER.

THE RESCUE

The government steamer, Newfield, left this morning for Sambro island, running at seven o'clock within a few hundred yards of the island. She cast anchor and proceeded to make necessary preparations for getting the survivors from the island. A boat was launched and the men pulled for the spot where the survivors were awaiting relief. Upon landing, the sailors and passengers were interviewed by the rescuing party, and the following details of the dreadful catastrophe were elicited by the reporter.

THE SURVIVING PASSENGERS AND SEAMEN OF THE ILL-FATED STEAMER ARE:

- Henry Schoonover, of Antwerp captain.
- Ego ne Mokola of Mutford Luxemborg
- Loce Ni kolo, Vincengo of Salano, Italy

The Lawyers Trying to Restore Order—Saloon Men Defying the Law.

Cincinnati, April 5.—The bar association at its meeting this morning had a report from the treasurer that a balance of $200 was due from the association for expenses previous to the fire. The most determined purpose was exhibited to restore quickly the lost library. There was an insurance of ten thousand dollars in four companies, but three had a clause exempting them from liability in case of loss by riot. An assessment of one hundred dollars per member was ordered. This will produce nearly thirty thousand dollars. Subscriptions were taken in addition, ranging from one hundred to one thousand dollars.

At a meeting this afternoon at Music hall of the committee on legislation, Hon. W. S. Groesbeck, chairman, the subcommittee reported that it had agreed to recommend certain portions of the legislation which the bar association. Their report was adopted. It provides such changes in law as to make the criminal bonds more secure, by requiring an affidavit from the bondsmen that they hold unencumbered property sufficient to satisfy the bond.

That in sentencing criminals in capital cases, at least twenty days shall intervene between the sentence and execution; that in the revision of criminal cases on error, the court must give judgment without regard to errors or defects that do not substantially affect the rights of the defendant.

When an erroneous judgment has been given on a lawful verdict, the court may correct the judgment to conform to the verdict, or may remand the case for a new trial.

A committee of five was selected to go to Columbus and urge the speedy enactment of the reform measures.

A LARGE NUMBER OF DONATIONS

were also reported, many lawyers giving from their private libraries. It is thought the library will soon be restored so far as possible, but some of the volumes lost cannot be replaced.

Manager Fennessy, of Henck's new opera house, received a dispatch from Col. Mapleson, early this morning from Omaha, announcing that on account of the riot he had cancelled the engagement for next week. This is the second cancellation at Henck's. At the annual association a long discussion on the course to be pursued in reference to the spring election, resulted in a declaration to support George Richards, the republican candidate for clerk of the police court. A resolution was adopted condemning the present legislature from beginning to end for its action on the Scott law and graded tax law, both of which the association condemns. It was stated that nearly three hundred saloon keepers had not paid the Scott tax last year, and had not been molested.

MEETING OF THE SALOON KEEPERS

GETTING DOWN TO SOLID WORK.

The grand jury made a partial report today, finding twenty indictments.

Allen Ingalls, one of the murderers of the Taylor family near Avondale, is regarded as insane by the prison authorities. He has become especially violent since the mob was in the jail, and it has been necessary to keep a close watch to prevent him committing suicide.

CAUGHT BY THE CARS.

Three boys driving a spring wagon across the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road at Spring Grove cemetery crossing late this afternoon, were struck by the engine of a passenger train and instantly killed, the bodies being horribly mangled. All were sons of well known citizens, John O. Moore, J. C. Hopple, and C. W. Mackelfresh.

POLITICAL.

Georgia Democrats.

More Republican Squalls.

Atlanta, Ga., April 5.—The State Democratic convention to select delegates to the National convention is called for June 18th, and the convention to nominate state officers and presidential electors, for August 13th.

More Republican Squalls.

Pittsburg, April 5.—A split occurred in the Twenty-second Congressional district republican convention today, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention. The regulars nominated delegates understood to be for Arthur. The Blaine faction withdrew and nominated a delegation which will cause a contest at Chicago for recognition.

THE LINDELL CHANGES HANDS.

St. Louis, April 5.—Col. W. C. Howard, a prominent stock man of Texas, and owner of a hotel in Dallas, Texas, has purchased a one-half interest in the Lindell hotel of this city, and has been elected president of the company vice Charles Scudder, resigned. He will have the chief management of the hotel hereafter.

A FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BLAZE.

A fire last night in Broderick and Boscom's wire rope factory were also consumed the Frederick Barbed Wire works, entailing a total loss of fifty thousand dollars. Insured for about twenty-five thousand dollars. Both concerns belonged to the same parties.

MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

Sadie Hays, the negro who shot and killed Police Sargeant Jenks last October while he was attempting to arrest her on the street, was found guilty of murder in the first degree in the criminal court today, the jury being out only forty minutes.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL DELEGATES.

The republican convention of the Tenth congressional district of this city has elected Henry C. Meyers and John C. Bessieck delegates to the Chicago convention. Both belong to the Filley faction of the republican party.

The republicans of the Twelfth district in convention at Nevada elected W. D. Tyler and Charles E. Barton, delegates to the Chicago convention. The delegates were not instructed, but the convention adopted a resolution endorsing the administration of President Arthur, and the delegates are understood to be in favor of any presidential candidate who can command the united support of New York.

At the meeting of the Ninth Congressional district convention of this city was elected Chauncey I. Filley and Dr. J. H. McLean delegates, and Charles Schweickert and E. G. Chapman alternates, to the National Republican convention.

DANVILLE DOINGS.

New Ways to Pay Old Debts Exemplified by Virginia Coalition Tax-Payers.

Startling Revelations of Republican Bulldozing in the South.

Washington, April 5.—Eustace Gibson, congressman from West Virginia, appeared before the Danville committee today.

He said he was at Culpepper, Virginia, election day.

The news of the riot worked great injury to the democrats in solidifying the colored voting against them.

Congressman George De-vice of Virginia, took the witness chair and was examined by Senator Vance referring to the testimony of John S. Wise. The witness quoted his remark, "Considering my case stronger now than when it was started, he (Massy) has not proved anything and I have proved some 700 perjuries and forgeries for his benefit."

The witness said he was acquainted with the men thus assailed, and they were men who stood as high as any men in Virginia, and no man had ever questioned their word. What were called perjuries and forgeries were

DELINQUENT TAX PAYERS.

The coalitionists selected a second man as collector of delinquent taxes, who opened his office in the United States custom house at Richmond and placed guards at the door. None were allowed to pass in who were unaccompanied by the guards.

Streams of colored men were guided in there by these attendants.

The witness was warned by a prominent and honorable republican of things that was going on there, that if known, would shock the public.

Witness employed a man and gave him money to go and pay delinquent taxes as he had a right to do. The man went and was threatened with death.

It was discovered on the day of election that the second

COLLECTOR HAD GIVEN NO BOND.

The reason for this was that one dollar had been made to serve the purpose of paying the taxes of four hundred colored men. When a colored man entered a dollar was handed him. When it was paid to the officer it was carried back to the door-keeper to be handed to the next colored man. The coalitionists arrested the election officials of certain white precincts and kept the polls closed during a portion of the day when many democrats wished to vote. Witness took the names of between 200 and 300 democratic voters at two precincts none of whom were thus prevented from voting.

John S. Wise had said he knew no instance where a colored man had been misused or his race

PERIL IN A PIT.

A Mine Containing Two Hundred Workmen Suddenly Flooded.

Braidwood, Ill., April 7.—This place to-day came near being visited by a disaster more terrible than the Diamond mine disaster of a year ago. At noon news reached here of the flooding of the old shaft of the Albright mine of the Burlington Coal company. Two hundred men were at work in the mine at the time. All escaped but five Italian miners who worked in a different part of the mine from the rest. No one notified them of the break and they were not seen to come out though some think they may have escaped with the rest and gone home during the excitement. The break was first discovered by the driver, who rushed on top and informed the superintendent, who gave the alarm to the miners at work in the face who passed word of the danger from room to room. The excitement was intense. Some of the men were perfectly wild and ran pell-mell over one another, turning into this and that to avoid a low place until they reached the edge, where the water was at four feet deep. On being raised to the top many of them were almost entirely exhausted. Vigorous efforts are being put forth to get the water out so an examination may be made of the rooms to see that all are out, and it is thought an entrance can be effected to-night.

Fond of Fighting.

Pittsburg, April 5.—A dispatch from Cumberland, Md., says a prize fight came off at Hyndman, Pa., near the Maryland state line at an early hour this morning between a Hungarian named Nickvest, formerly a St. Louis sport, and an unknown man, alleged to be Kiltraine, the Boston pugilist. The fight was arranged a short time ago and the party left Huntington, Pa., last night in coal cars, arriving at Hyndman at 3 o'clock this morning. During the trip a melee occurred on the train, in which several persons were injured. Arriving at Hyndman a ring was pitched and the fight begun. Fifty-three rounds were fought, with the advantage about even, when a cry of foul was raised and a terrible riot ensued, in which pistols and knives were freely used. The riot lasted some time, and at its conclusion three men, including Nickvest, lay stretched on the ground dead, while several others were badly wounded. Nickvest was shot through the head. No arrests are reported.

WASHINGTON.

SENATE.

Washington, April 5.—Senator Garland, from the committee on judiciary, reported favorably with an amendment the house bill making it a felony for any per on to falsify and fraudulently assume or pretend to be an officer or employe of the United States government. Passed.

Senator Morgan presented a petition from the state board of silk culture of California, praying congress to establish a bureau of silk culture. The petitioners state that they do not ask any protection on raw material, being satisfied that with improved mechanical apparatus American manufacturers could compete with foreign manufacturers, whose crude appliances had been but little improved for centuries.

HOUSE.

Mr. Goff, from the committee on naval affairs reported back a resolution requesting the secretary of the navy and the secretary of war to report on the feasibility and expediency of constructing an interior coast line water way for the relief of the Atlantic and Gulf Seaboard—Adopted.

The morning hour was disposed with and the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Boyle in the chair on the agricultural appropriation bill.

INVESTIGATING GOV. MURRAY.

Justice Harlan, of the United States supreme court, was examined by the Springer committee to-day, relative to charges against Governor Murray, of Utah. The former was the legal adviser of Governor Murray. When the charges were made in 1876, Justice Harlan visited Washington and had an audience with Taft, then attorney general. The attorney general at that interview, Judge Harlan testified, said clearly and explicitly Gov. Murray had not knowingly made any improper charges. In reference to Governor Murray's character Judge Harlan said: "There is no man in Kentucky for whose integrity, both as an officer and man, the people of that state without distinction to party would more readily vouch than for him. He has secured the enmity of some in the discharge of his duties, but beyond that very few people would question his integrity."

THE BONYTON-KIEFER REPORT.

Representative Hopkins intended to call up to-day a resolution recently reported to the house by the special committee, which investigated the charges against Bonyton, but at the request of ex-Speaker Kiefer, postponed doing so.

Mr. Kiefer said he had not yet had an opportunity to examine the testimony.

Mr. Hopkins says the resolution will be called up Tuesday next.

were threatened with ejection from the church if they failed to obey. A man now in this building (the capitol) came to his room. He would not give his name. It would not be safe for the man. He came to the witness' room, not to his kitchen and said he wished to vote for the witness but could not because of threats to which he had been subjected.

The witness described the coalition speeches.

The coalitionists asserted that the democrats were advocates of the whipping post and wished to destroy the colored school houses.
